Wooden Span Prepares For Permanent Bridge at Grass Lake Channel

A temporary wooden span over the 400-foot channel at Grass Lake has been completed ready to sink the 40 and 60-foot reinforced concrete piling next week.

The new $300,000 bridge, constructed with federal, state and county funds will provide a shortcut from the east and west sides of the Chain of Lakes area over the Grass Lake rd. Its completion has been awaited for many years.

The approaches to the bridge have been graded but not paved. The bridge itself will be of steel and cement and should be completed by the end of the year.

Earl Edward Swenson, 58, a former resident of Kenosha, died Saturday at his farm home in Spring Grove, Ill., after a long illness.

He says that at the intersection of Main and Lake sts., the latitude is 42 degrees, 28 minutes and 38.4 seconds; and at the grade school house, the latitude is 42 degrees, 28 minutes and 49.99 seconds and longitude is 88 degrees, 5 minutes and 42.05 seconds.

Ted Portalski, Channel Lake, Injured Mon.

Ted Portalski, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Portalski, of Channel Lake, who was seriously injured Monday when he slipped and fell under the wheels of a gravel truck driven by John Runyard, will recover, according to latest available reports on his condition.

Runyard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Runyard, of Channel Lake, had stopped his truck at the channel, west of Channel Lake and when he started, the Portalski boy slipped and fell under the truck. The ten-year-old boy slipped and fell beneath the wheels and suffered two fractured hips. It was feared that the shock would be fatal, but work of the Antioch rescue squad and local doctors revived him sufficiently that he was taken to the St. Theresa hospital by the squad and it is believed that he will recover.

Lake Marie, Channel Lake and Fox Lake Now in Three-Way Tie

Catching of 92 prize fish in less than two months is believed to be somewhat of a record in angling contest, but that is exactly what has been done in the $50,000 Illinois Fishing Rodeo—in the Chicago area alone.

Director Livingston E. Osborne of the Department of Conservation, sponsor of the unique competition, made this announcement in the Chicago offices of the department, and added that the prizes won to date include two boats and two outboard motors, in addition to rods, reels, lines, lures and other items of outdoor clothing and equipment.

Latest top winners in the rodeo are Art Jannisch, of 24 N. Chase av., Lombard, whose black bass caught in Channel Lake on a Mickey Finn streamer won an Evinrude outboard motor donated by Evinrude Motors of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Mildred Barrett, of 3033 N. Rose st., Franklin Park, caught a bluegill on a redworm in Nippersink Lake which won for her an Aqua Clipper fisherman's boat contributed by the Miller Marine Corporation of Fox Lake.

Fox Chain Yields Many
Director Osborne's announcement put Lake Marie and Channel and Fox Lakes into a three-way tie for first place in the Fox Chain, with seven prize fish captured in each. The only Northern Illinois water producing more tagged fish remains Prince Lake in DuPage County, where bullheads were tagged and released for youthful anglers, who already have caught ten of these in addition to one crappie and one bluegill.

Here is the tabulation to date: Prince Lake 12; Channel and Fox Lakes and Lake Marie, 7 each; Petite Lake 6; Griswold and Round Lakes and Churchill and McDowell Preserves, 5 each; Bluff and Grass Lakes, 4 each; Diamond, Maple and Nippersink Lakes, 3 each; Cedar, Ellyn, Herrick, Pistakee and Wooster Lakes, 2 each.

Crooked, Fish and Long Lakes, Lake Zurich, Fox River and Wheaton Lagoons, 1 each.

Species of tagged fish caught are divided as follows: Bluegills 62; black bass 9; crappie 9; bullheads 10 and rock bass 1.

Surprising to both fishermen and Conservation Department officers is the fact that none of the northern pike (pickereel) tagged and released in Northern Illinois has yet been captured. Some of these northern pike carry valuable prizes too, Director Osborne stated.

Fox Lake Girl in Car Wreck
Nancy Stille, 19, of Mineola hotel, Fox Lake, well known water skier, escaped injury yesterday when the brakes on her car locked sending it into a skid and down a 20-foot embankment on Wilson rd. near Long Lake. She was shocked and bruised as was also Louis Hewes, 22, Fox Lake, who was with her.

Two Grass Fires
Two grass fires occupied the attention of the Antioch fire department during the past week. They were at the Willett subdivision at Channel Lake and at the Barney Nabor property across from St. Peter's church.

Kenosha County Fair at Wilmet to Open Friday

Horse Show; Free Acts; Large Exhibits to Attract Crowds

The Kenosha county fair, for many years known as the Wilmet fair, will open its gates tomorrow for a three-day run. The fair board, through its president, Mr. Schnurr, announces that the fair will be larger than those held in previous years, and that more entertainment and exhibits will be on display.

Highlight of the entertainment at the fair will be the Horse Show. Miss Grace Carey, chairman of the committee announced this week that entries for the show have reached the 125 figure which was set as a limit for contesting horses. The best stables in the mid-west will be represented and a fine show is assured.

A five-act show featuring the best in outdoor entertainment will be presented each afternoon and evening. The show will feature the "Silver Cyclones" novelty roller skating artists; Clark and Bailey comedy team, who will present a balancing act; The "Aerial Sniders" who will perform atop a 125-ft. sway pole. Their act will be climaxed by a double hand-stand above the pole. Eugene and Gage, trampoline table artists, will provide fun and merriment. The free show will be rounded out by a unique balancing act which will feature the Rolos. This act is said to be most entertaining and skillful of its kind. The show will be completed by Dick and Pauline on the horizontal bars. This show will be the most ambitious ever presented in this locality and is certain to attract a large crowd.

Exhibits at the fair will exceed those of last year by much and the exhibitors will be more varied and cover many more subjects.

Last year's attendance at the fair exceeded 35,000 and an estimated 50,000 will attend during this year's fair, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Antioch Rescue Squad Now Incorporated as Independent Concern

Incorporation papers establishing the Antioch Rescue Squad as an independent non-profit group has been received from state officials in Springfield, Herman Holbek, captain, said.

The squad has as its first lieutenant, Walter Scott, and second lieutenant, Charles Larsen. The group recently was given permission by the village board to set up its own corporation and thereby be responsible for its own transactions, leaving the village liability free.

The squad expects to have its new truck before many more months. While Scott and Larsen were at Stoughton, Wis., where the truck is being built, an employee of the construction firm was injured and Larsen helped the ambulance driver care for him and take him to the hospital. Antioch's rescue work took on an even greater area thereby.

Capt. Holbek said that the new corporation will have to think before long of a place to house the truck and equipment. The new village building will not be available to it.

Meet and Play Golf
The Holy Name Society of St. Peter's church enjoyed a golf tourney yesterday afternoon, ate lunch and then conducted its business meeting at the Chain O' Lakes golf course.

Body of Chicago Youth Drowned at Indian Point Recovered Wednesday

The body of a Chicago youth, Alden S. McGregor, 20, was recovered yesterday afternoon at Indian Point where he sank Sunday afternoon while diving.

It came to the surface 1,000 feet from where the Antioch Rescue squad had been told that he went down.

McGregor had gone on the lake in a small sail boat with George and Fred Dreyer, also of Chicago, and dived into about six feet of water. Apparently he was trapped by weeds and failed to come to the surface.

The rescue workers worked morning and evening in an attempt to find the body. Capt. Herman Holbek said he had never seen weeds so thick and heavy in any lake.

Companions of McGregor said he had a weak heart and might have succumbed from a heart attack when he found himself snared. The body was taken to Chicago for burial.

Alfred Pederson, Jr., 3, Hurt in Auto Collision Near Kenosha Sunday

Alfred Pederson, 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pederson, Jr., Rte. 173, is suffering from a head injury and blood clot as the result of an automobile accident Sunday in which the father and the 2-year-old brother, Lloyd, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Mr. Pedersen was driving his new automobile south on County Trunk H near Kenosha and collided with the car of Harold R. Patzer, 32, West Allis, Wis., at a road intersection. Police said a field of tall corn obstructed the view of the drivers.

Patzer received cuts and bruises and his wife, Viola, suffered a fractured nose, with chest and neck injuries.

Both cars were badly damaged. Little Alfred's condition is serious, but he is expected to recover in a course of time as the clot dissolves. He was taken to St. Catherine hospital in Kenosha for x-ray examination.

Mrs. Julia Palaske returned home Saturday after spending two weeks in Denver, Colo., with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Palaske. Mr. and Mrs. O. Palaske arrived in Antioch Wednesday for a visit.

ANNIVERSARY - AND PEACE

Taxpayers Meeting Set For Tomorrow Evening At Antioch High School

Study of Increased Tax Bills To Be Led By Civic League Expert

A meeting to which Antioch township taxpayers are invited has been arranged for 8 p. m. Friday at the Antioch Township High school when Walton Taylor of the Lake County Civic league will suggest steps to moderate steeply increased taxes.

The audience will be privileged to discuss tax bills and ask questions regarding future control of them, Ed Vos and Walter K. Hills, representatives of the civic league said.

The board of review, which ordered blanket increases in the assessed valuation of Antioch property, has also been invited to send a representative to the meeting to explain why those increases were made, Vos said.

Arrangements for the meeting are being made by Vos, Hills and C. K. Anderson as a committee who say they want the facts presented on what happened to make their tax bills so much higher than last year.

"Similar meetings in Warren, Fremont, Benton and Lake Villa townships have been very helpful in getting the facts about these tax increases," said Vos, "and committee appointed to represent taxpayers in those townships have some hopes to get reductions in taxes."

"We need to take some action out here in Antioch to make sure we don't get left out of any tax relief that may be available," Hills stated.

Bruce Artis Gets State Permission To Build Airport

Department Says Probable Loss To Property Not Lawful Excuse

An order granting the petition of Bruce Artis to establish an airport at the old Tiffany farm west of the village was prepared today at Springfield by the Illinois Department of Aeronautics.

Donald E. Blodgett, assistant director of the department said the department has given its approval and that Artis would receive the order by tomorrow. Copies are being sent to the press.

"The only objections raised at the recent hearing in Chicago were made by residents of the W. W. Warner and Felter's subdivisions and those on the grounds of depreciation of property, and property damage," said Blodgett.

"But courts have held that such an objection is not sufficient grounds for the refusal to approve an application," Blodgett continued, "because it is impossible to tell before an airport begins operations what the effect on the surrounding property will be."

Exceeds Requirements
Blodgett said the plans for the airport not only meets but exceeds the minimum requirements of the Department of Aeronautics as to length of runways.

"Those who raised the objection may have a rehearing on the case or may appeal to the circuit court," said Blodgett.

Artis had promised that the planes would be muffled so as to make a minimum amount of noise. He will have a number of planes for the training of GI's and the landing field will be available to private planes. He expects to do a commercial business, however, transporting passengers to Waukegan and Chicago.

Work Starts In Fall
Work on the airport, which will be situated in the north part of the 160 acre farm owned by C. F. Spiering at the southwest intersection of Tiffany rd. and w. North St., will be started early in the fall.

Large hangars will be built, a lunch and rest room will be constructed, and gasoline will be sold for the benefit of the general public.

Firemen Lose Ball Game

The village firemen lost an exciting friendly game of softball to the Fox Lake department Tuesday evening 26 to 30. The game had everything it was said.

The Fox Lake group was challenged by the Libertyville department, and the winner of that game is challenged by Round Lake. Perhaps Antioch can challenge the winner at Round Lake.

Liquidating The Middle Class

An economic review published by one of the country's leading banks recently touched on a phase of inflation that must be given a great deal more thought than it has received so far. It said, "Month by month, year by year, people who have been considered, with justice, the mainstay of our society—the great middle class—have been rewarded for their prudence and self-reliance in steadily depreciating coin. These are the people who save for retirement, for the rainy day, for family security, as best they can with the resources at their disposal. They are the people who responded most generously to the calls for funds in the loan drives of the war emergency. They are the people who pay most of the taxes. They are the people who provided wise leadership in community life all through the country. It is a dangerous business, in a free society, to grind them down, take away their incentives, frustrate their efforts toward security. . . .

"Back of this inflationary trend are government policies of spending, lending and guaranteeing which, more than any other single factor, have been responsible for our taut economy and for the spiraling of prices. The irony of it is that so much of this spending is pressed in the name of social welfare and liberalism. Yet those who see in such spending the menace to the security and freedom of the individual are classed as reactionary and insensible to humanitarian classifications."

It is sometimes argued that the enormous commitments of the government—such as those for military purposes and European aid—make any worth while reduction in the budget impossible. That is not so. The unparalleled magnitude of necessary spending should cause the utmost intensification of efforts to cut unnecessary spending to the last possible dollar. Why, to take one example, should the government keep on pouring more millions down the rat-hole of socialized power development when private enterprise is eager and able to do the job with private funds?

Again, how long will it take us to learn that a government which sets out to protect the people against every exigency of living is a government going hell bent down the road that leads to unbridled inflation and eventual dictatorship? Every tyrant comes into power with specious promises of what he will do to help the "common man," whoever he is. And once he gets power, the common man becomes a slave.

Government-inspired inflation, along with all the other ills that it creates, is the most insidious enemy of freedom that exists. The economic liquidation of the middle class is just one of the symptoms. All other classes will get theirs sooner or later.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I think I see an omen—a good one—a straw in the wind—it is happening up there in Maine. And the slogan about "how goes Maine, goes the nation," that makes the omen look even better.

They are taking the bull by the horns, those Maine folks, and are building themselves a new school house from the ground up. They are not down in the mouth or moanin' about it and hoping Uncle Sam will come along with the money and take 'em by the hand like as if they were not too smart and needed a guardian or something, like maybe a "Housing Director" who never saw a building put together before, but got attached to the Govt. pay-roll via getting out and scaring up votes for the Chief.

Each person there in the Maine community is donating his strength and time. One guy started it by furnishing the land. Then came the foundation digging—the plumber—the carpenter—painters. And everybody being busy—everybody is happy. And when Saturday night rolls around they are ready for a bath and go to bed versus heading down to the civic auditorium and listening to a lot of Govt. yap yap—but getting no new school house.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Seventy coal companies and railroads are putting up $250,000 this year to develop a completely automatic mining machine, says Pathfinder. It will cut solid coal without explosives and load continuously onto conveyors or into mine cars. It will also reduce the cost of coal as well as the number of miners working in soft coal pits—just how much nobody knows.

The case of the missing witness

"Getting the message through" is a tradition with telephone people. And three Joliet operators lived up to it recently in a "needle in the haystack" search that spanned half a continent.

The three operators were asked by a Joliet attorney to put through a call to a man named L—C—G—. Mr. G—was a witness to the will of a soldier killed in action during the war. He had to be found to authenticate the will which left everything to the soldier's widow.

The trouble was, Mr. G— left no address on the will he signed! The problem of the operators was to locate him among 140,000,000 people in the U. S. And they did!

They began their "manhunt" by calling Mitchell Field, New York, where Mr. G—had signed the will. They called Air Force Headquarters in Washington. They called many other places "until finally they reached the Demobilized Persons Record Department at St. Louis. There, they found that an L—C—G— was listed as residing in the little town of Crawford, Mississippi.

Crawford is a quiet place where nearly everyone knows everyone else. And as the call from Joliet came in, the Crawford operator glanced out the window of her exchange and there, walking past, was Mr. G— himself!

"Mr. G—," she called out the window, "I have a telephone call for you from up north!"

The case was closed. An unusual case, perhaps. But you probably could tell similar stories about operators "getting your message through." ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY.

PICTURE OF A FOREST...
Burned

$35,000,000! That's the rough yearly cost to the nation of forest fires in timber value alone. That doesn't count the loss of wages to workers in lumbering, pulpwood and other forest industries. It doesn't count the loss of wildlife—nor the loss of hunting, fishing and camping lands.

Not all forest fires can be prevented. But most of them can! The Soo Line, along with other railroads, is trying hard to prevent forest fires caused by locomotive sparks. Spark control devices are in use.

Much of our business comes from hauling raw and finished forest products—naturally, we're interested in keeping our forests in the Upper Midwest green.

But wood production is important to you, too. It's a big business in this territory. Will you help by being extra careful with fire in the forest?

CHIEF ATTRACTION for visitors to Chicago this summer is the spectacular Chicago Railroad Fair, commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the opening of the West by rail transportation. Sponsored by America's leading railroads, it opens July 20 and continues through Labor Day.

Only one hundred years ago, a 10-ton, wood-burning engine, bought third-hand from eastern railroads, chugged out of the young city of Chicago, pulling a flatcar loaded with local dignitaries of the day.

This historic 5-mile trip of the "PIONEER" marked the beginning of Chicago's growth to leadership as a center of rail transportation. The Chicago Railroad Fair is a celebration of that growth. Rich with educational exhibits, it enlivens the contributions made by the railroads in the settlement of the country, the development of its economy and the winning of its wars. It pays tribute to Chicago's position as transportation center of the world and accords recognition to its eminence in cultural, educational and industrial achievements. The foremost railroads of the country have prepared fascinating exhibits, including trains from every period of railroad progress, from the old "PIONEER" to the very newest streamliners, including the famous "TRAIN OF TOMORROW".

Visitors to the Fair, conveniently located on the Lake Michigan shore, will sample the travel attractions of every part of the country. A mile-long narrow-gauge railroad transports them to a typical southwest Indian village, past a replica of Old Faithful Geyser in Yellowstone National Park, to beach and Everglades scenes from Florida and through a western dude ranch. Highlight of the Chicago Railroad Fair is a colorfully staged pageant depicting the development of transportation from the birch bark canoes of the Indians to the de luxe trains of the future. More than 200 actors will present this dramatic pageant several times daily on an outdoor stage.

Enough Caves for All

Caves which were man's first dwelling place well may be his last, in this atomic age. For the bulk of information about the country's underground frontier, the military has called upon the American Speleological society, whose members have been nosing around in holes in the ground for years. When the war ended, cave crawling for fun ended, too, and the society was put on an almost official footing. The caves were given extra gas rations to make their trips to the hinterlands where caves are found. The speleologists say that the U. S. has one of the finest natural defense systems in the world and all that remains to be done is to use it.

Former Antioch Resident Builds Miniature Train; Operates Amusement Park

Frank Van Duzer, born on a farm near Antioch, recently was the subject of an article in the Johns-Manville publication, the Jay Emmer, for his construction of a locomotive which he uses at his amusement park on Sheridan rd., south of Kenosha.

While a boy he spent much time inventing and constructing all types of power driven toys such as steam turbines, boats and radios.

"In 1925 Frank's interests in amusement led to more daring mechanical achievements," the article said. "He designed and constructed a two-seat high wing monoplane which he flew. The new venture inspired him to barnstorm the country and sell rides to people who marveled at the sight of the aeroplane. By 1928 the nation's economy was so uncertain, Frank had to abandon the whole business."

The main attraction at his amusement place is a miniature train. The engine itself is a replica of the Southern Pacific railway locomotives. It has 10 wheels, four pilot wheels and six drivers.

The coal car accommodates a 90-gallon water tank which will furnish enough steam to pull 22 tons on a level track.

The coaches are large enough to seat children and adults alike. The train runs on a 19-inch gauge track mounted on oak ties and the track is one-half mile in length encircling the park. To give an appearance of realism, Frank has built a railroad station and a miniature water tank.

He works at Johns-Manville in the day time and operates the park with the aid of Eugene Turner on off hours.

Antioch 4-H Exhibitors Win Many Ribbons At County Fair

Among the many winners from the three Antioch 4-H Clubs were several outstanding victories.

George Miller of Antioch No. 2 club had the Grand Champion Jersey Female in both the open and 4-H classes. He also placed 5th in the Showmanship contest. Floyd McKinney and Robert Hermquist were also 1st place winners in the Jersey open classes. Miller also showed the Champion Ram lamb in the 4-H class. Warren Wells displayed the 1st place wether lamb in the Shropshire open classes. Junior McGreal showed 1st place Cheviot wether.

Warren Wells won 3rd placing in Sheep Showmanship and George Miller placed 5th.

Jack Heick was the outstanding winner in the market swine division winning two Grand Championships in the open and two in the 4-H classes on his Spotted Poland China Barrow and pen of 3 barrows. He was also 2nd place winner in the Swine Showmanship contest. Jack is showing this week at the Kenosha County fair.

Logan Lundgren won 1st in both the 4-H and open with his Hereford gilt. A special award from the Hereford Breeders Association was also awarded to him.

Gordon Wells was a blue ribbon winner in the 4-H classes on his Spotted Poland barrows.

Holden Myers won 1st honors in the beef showmanship contest with his blue ribbon Hereford beef heifer.

Sunstroke and Heat Prostration

Excessive heat accidents take two forms—sunstroke and heat prostration. A sudden, splitting headache is the first warning of sunstroke, after which the victim falls unconscious. The temperature sometimes rises as high as 110 degrees and first aid should be for the purpose of bringing the temperature down. In heat prostration, on the other hand, the victim's temperature drops and he has a chilled, clammy feeling. In either case a doctor should be called at once.

Drain on U. S. Forests

In 1909-18 the forest service says we took out of the forests (the drain) practically six times as much each year as we grew to replace it. But in 1946, it says, the drain was only one-and-a-half board feet for every one foot grown. We moved from a drain six times as great as new growth to where the drain today is only a half-foot greater than each new board foot grown.

Signs of Coccidiosis

Chicks affected with coccidiosis become droopy, let their wings sag, and lag behind the rest of the flock. Beaks and shanks are pale. Infected chicks eat little and so become thin, and often die in a few days. In chronic coccidiosis, chicks grow slowly and usually are poor feathered, pale and thin. In older birds the combs are blue and the birds are inactive.

Oldest English Borough

Hythe, a quiet little resort, is the oldest borough in England. It has a fine early English parish church and is the terminus of the smallest railway in the world.

Fishing Bulletin No. 19 August 10, 1948

Algae, bane of Chicagoand anglers, again has put most of the Northern Illinois waters "in bloom" and sent fishermen's luck into the usual mid-summer slump, according to a survey by the Chicago office of the Conservation Department.

Black bass and northern pike (pickerel) fishing has suffered a definite setback, although some persistent anglers have been able to garner messes of bluegills and crappie, mostly on worms and minnows and some bass, chiefly on frogs and other live bait.

Algae is a low formation of plant life which gathers about the tops of weeds—particularly in shallower lakes—forming what many call "scum" and which sometimes is referred to as "fermentation," which it is not. Algae affects fishing adversely in two ways: (1) it causes a murky condition which diminishes water visibility, and (2) furnishes food for an abundance of small aquatic insects, which feed minnows and other water life relished by fish. Thus when waters are "in bloom" bass and other game fish often display little interest in artificial lures. When Nature has taken its course—usually in a week or ten days—waters will clear and fishing is expected to return to normal.

Migratory Waterfowl Law Has Some Changes, State Officials Warn Hunters

The 1948 Migratory Waterfowl regulations have been announced and Illinois sportsmen should note that there are some changes in the law this season.

The regular open season on ducks, geese and coots opens October 29 and closes on November 27. On opening day shooting may not start until noon; however, the shooting hours for the balance of the regular season are from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

The portion of Alexander County in the Horseshoe Lake region has again been closed to hunting, but many sportsmen found good goose shooting in the territory outside the closed area last season.

The daily limit on ducks is again four, possession limit eight, including not more than one wood duck. Mergansers are the same as in previous seasons.

Four geese may be taken, but this year the bag may include two Canada, or two white-fronted geese, or one of each.

The limit on coot has been reduced to 15. There is again a special coot season in Lake and McHenry Counties from October 1 through October 12; shooting hours during this special season only are from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Dove season is unchanged—Sept. 1 through September 30. The daily possession limit is ten.

"Pitchman"

A pitchman—or woman—is a sidewalk sales person. He sells anything light, cheap and portable. It might be an inferior silverware polish or fountain pen. The tools of the trade are a trip or tripod, which forms part of a collapsible table, and a suitcase to carry the merchandise. In a few big cities good for long stays the pitch workers take out "readers" or city licenses. But most of them would rather take a chance on the small fine usually imposed upon them when they are run in. As a rule they are just chased.

Good Spots for DDT

When replacing linoleum for kitchen floors, a light dusting of DDT in the cracks of the floor and in an area six inches wide or more near the baseboard will cut down insect infestations, keeping ants and bugs and beetles from making use of the cracks in the floor as an avenue of entry into the house. When carpets are up for cleaning, it's a good idea to dust DDT under them before relaying. Another good place for DDT is under the shields and around the pipes where plumbing comes through the floor or wall.

Can Openers

Safest can opener is one with a revolving motion that folds under the sharp freshly cut edge of the can top. If it is necessary to use the common pry-type of can opener the can should be held firmly, supported by the table. Special care should be exercised so that the can does not slip, as jagged edges of the can are turned up by this type of can opener. The hand may be protected by a thick pad held firmly on top of the can when the pry-type opener is used.

Benjamin Franklin

Born in Boston in the winter of 1706, Benjamin Franklin was one of 15 children. His father was a tallow-chandler, his mother a typical hard-working housewife in a house that was small and inconvenient. In his autobiography, Franklin tells little of his early years except to say that, when he was seven years old, all his family tried to keep him from making so much noise around the house with a penny whistle.

Back in 1790

In 1790, the largest cities in the United States were as follows and in this order: Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Charleston, S. C., Baltimore, Salem, Mass.

Poisonous Plants

Among our poisonous plants are poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac. During the summertime, persons who enter the woods, travel along creeks or other waterways, or walk through fields along fences, hedgerows or stone walls should be especially careful. It is well to make it a point to learn just what these plants look like, and in addition, what to do if infected. There is no such thing as immunity to poison ivy. Persons who have avoided infection previously, after repeated contact with these plants, may develop poisoning through subsequent exposures, under different conditions.

SHORT STORY

Call Of the Road

By
I. DE LA TORRE

3-Minute Fiction

HIS sneakers raising puffs of dust, Billy raced down the path to the lake. Now he stopped, snatched an overhanging branch and clung to it, gasping for breath. After a backward glance satisfied him that the little white schoolhouse no longer showed through the trees, he jerked up his black trousers and shuffled on.

"School!" he mumbled to himself. "I'm sick of it! And if Ma puts on any more crying acts when I talk about quitting, it just ain't going to do her any good. I could fake my age and join the navy to see the— Nah! too much orders to take. Maybe I'll just drift around, free like a kite."

A thin column of smoke rising from the clearing caught his eye.

"Funny time for anybody to have a fire on the beach," he told himself and dashed across. The two men crouching over the fire turned around at Billy's approach. Both wore shabby clothes, and their faces looked as if untouched by water or razor for weeks.

"You — you tramps?" Billy blurted.

The two men looked at each other and the one sitting on an overturned lard can answered.

"Yeah, we're bums. What you doin' here? Ain't yuh supposed to be in school?"

"Sure. Just taking a vacation today," and Billy grinned, pleased with his wit.

THE big man who had just spoken picked up a twig, snapped it, and threw it on the fire.

"Hey, Joe," he grunted to his companion, "what yuh say duh kid joins up wid us?" He put his hand on the boy's shoulder.

"You mean go around tramping with you?" Billy broke in.

"Yuh know how tuh ride rails, kid?" Joe inquired.

"Sure — sure I do," Billy wasn't as certain as he sounded, but from what he had seen of "riding the rods" in the movies it looked easy enough.

The first tramp picked up a rusty can with the aid of a stick propped it on the center of the crackling twigs. He was still poking it into position as he drawled out, "Hey, Joe, 'Member Horsey Sinder? Jus' heard other day he lost his leg ridin' onnah Santa Fe. Trackman followed up his blood fer 10 miles."

"Mike, wouldjah ast dah kid tuh gimme his shoes? Mine's ain't got 'nuf sole on 'em tuh grind up fer chewin' tobacco."

"Mine?" Billy cried. He held one foot forward for them to see. "These are my only school shoes and I—"

"Yeah — yours," Mike snarled. "Yuh ain't goin' tuh school no more, is yuh?" He started to stand up but Joe motioned him down. "Aw, lettem have 'em. He'll be wearin' noospapers 'round his feet soon 'nuf. We get 'nother 40 below winter of

During the St. Lawrence debate, backers of the bill said this: If we had the seaway, Labrador ores might move to lake steel plants at reasonable cost. Otherwise, foreign ores might cause a wrenching shift of industry from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic coast.

On the other side, it was argued that the St. Lawrence project might delay the taconite development. There is no easy answer.

Antarctic Sailors Unearth Matches From 1908 Campsite

LOS ANGELES—The navy ice-breaker Burton Island returned from a five-month, 23,000-mile cruise with identifications for some 700 thousand charts and photographs made on a previous expedition.

Other highlights, the crew said, included:

Rescuing the American Antarctic society's Finn Ronne expedition which had been icebound 14 months.

A helicopter crash into an iceberg without injury to two fliers.

Battling a swell which showered 1,000 pound ice chunks on deck.

Visiting a campsite of Sir Ernest Shackleton's 1908 expedition and finding a metal match case with matches still intact.

"Have a light," said Cmdr. E. A. MacDonald, striking one for proof.

Immigration Authorities Arrest Armenian Healer

MIAMI, FLA. — Avak Hagopian, 21, Armenian faith healer, and his two servants were arrested by immigration authorities on warrants charging them with being in the country illegally.

They were expected to be released shortly on bonds of $500 each pending a hearing at which time they will be asked to show cause why they should not be deported. The Immigration office here said no date for the hearing had been set.

U.S. Ore Supply Drops Steadily To Hit New Low

High Rate of Manufacturing Depletes Natural Iron Reserves in Mines

WASHINGTON.—Americans, used to thinking they are eternally blessed with natural resources, are having to face a new fact:

The country is running low on some of the materials it needs most. Secretary of the Interior Julius A. Krug has issued another warning in his annual report. And the matter of iron boded up in congress during debate on the St. Lawrence seaway.

Iron means steel, and steel is basic in our complex industrial life. It's the substance that goes into our bridges, skyscrapers, houses, automobiles, tractors, ships and trains.

All Krug said about iron ore was this: "Supplies of high-grade iron ore are limited."

He didn't say how limited. But others have.

Summarizing the views of industry and government experts, the commerce department says our best reserves, around Lake Superior, may run out in 20 years.

That region produces 80 per cent of all the iron ore mined annually in this country. And half the nation's output comes from one place—a great, yawning pit called the Mesabi range in Minnesota.

Use Steam Shovels

Since 1892, Americans have been taking iron ore out of the Mesabi pits with steam shovels. Its been almost like taking sand off a beach.

The shovels just strip off a thin earthen cover and scoop the ore into railroad cars. The ore moves straight to big docks for dumping into specially designed boats. Then it goes to the mills at cheap water rates.

This simple process has been a key factor in America's development of cheap mass-production items. And the Mesabi ore beat Germany and Japan.

But while the war was still on, a steel man said: "This is the last world war that will be fought off the Mesabi."

From 1940 to 1945, the industry drew on Mesabi ore at three times the rate of the 1930's. Now that peace has come, the withdrawals aren't much lighter.

Rate Doesn't Decrease

Last year 77 million tons were mined around Lake Superior, compared with 79 millions tons in 1944.

It's too early to say much, but the specialists seem agreed that getting iron ore from taconite means huge investments in plant, manpower, water and power.

Foreign ores are the alternative. The two sources most talked about are Labrador and Brazil. Both have enough iron ore of good grade to keep America's steel plants going for many decades.

But in both countries the ore is more than 300 miles from the sea in a wilderness. Industry would have to start from scratch, at huge cost.

During the St. Lawrence debate, backers of the bill said this: If we had the seaway, Labrador ores might move to lake steel plants at reasonable cost. Otherwise, foreign ores might cause a wrenching shift of industry from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic coast.

On the other side, it was argued that the St. Lawrence project might delay the taconite development. There is no easy answer.

Tribute to "Vinegar Joe"

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell (Vinegar Joe) had a great love and respect for the common soldier, which endeared him to his men. Shortly after Pearl Harbor, Stilwell was entrusted by Washington with the task of planning the campaign which led, one year later, to the American landing in North Africa. After this he was sent to China where he had previously spent many years of his life as an American military attaché.

Heavyweights in the Making Steel plate, rails and structural shapes are rolled from slabs and blooms. Heaviest of all finished products, they need little or no processing after they have cooled. When shipped to consumers, whether as plate for ships, rails for transportation, or structural steel shapes for building, they are applied on the job with a minimum of fabrication and delay. Their strength and stability is built into them before they leave the mill. Together they accounted for over 13 million tons of finished steel last year, about 20 per cent of total shipments.

Good Thirst-Quencher Rhubarb juice is particularly good as a thirst-quencher on hot days. Many farm women report that men working in the fields on hot days prefer rhubarb juice to any other cool beverage. Mix it with other fruit juices—such as strawberry, raspberry, orange, lemon, pineapple or cherry juice. It can be preserved for year-round use by canning or freezing.

Why Barns Are Red Early in the last century, farmers recognized that natural earth pigments of the red iron oxide type were readily available, and, when mixed with oil, made good, long-lasting paint. In more recent times, many farmers have used other colors of paint on barns, but the red barn continues to accent the landscape in large areas of rural America.

"You mean go around tramping with you?" the boy asked the man.

las' year an' no doubt dah remains of muh toes'll get frozen off."

MIKE grinned broadly and picked up his stick to poke the can. "Chow's on!" he called to Joe.

Billy leaned over and peered into the can. "What—what is it?" he stammered.

"Stewed pig tails," Mike drawled. "Ain't often we got such luck as tuh get such good eat'n as that, do we Joe?"

"Yeah, 'member dat time we couldn't get nuttin but fish heads otta dah garbage pails? Musta been time wasn't much meat 'round."

"Here, kid," Mike was proudly holding up the can. "New members foist. Gobble it down when it's still good'n hot, boy."

"No—no thanks. I—I—" Billy's lips clenched together and his hands went instinctively over his mouth. He shook his head and fled.

Mike dropped the can, threw back his head and laughed until he sank to the ground exhausted. His companion wiped a laugh-tear away.

"What did you do, Mike?" he panted. "Broll our worms?"

Mike nodded. "The fishing was getting terrible, anyway." He rose wearily off the ground. "Come on, let's look for the canoe and start home. And please remember, dear brother, that it's your turn to take mother to a fish dinner at the Seafood Grotto."

Customs Officers Use Mirrors for Smuggler Search

NEW YORK.—Day and night, squads of armed men carrying flashlights and pocket mirrors swarm aboard ships entering New York harbor.

The alert, eagle eyed men of the United States customs enforcement division don't carry the glassware from milady's handbag to use in combing their hair or preening their features. Pocket mirrors are standard equipment in the grim, unrelenting war on narcotic smuggling.

Placed strategically, a mirror shows up what may be ingeniously hidden behind a lavatory washbowl, a seaman's bunk, or in the machinery of the ship's intricate engine room.

Vigilance of these customs officers has paid off handsomely. In the last year they've confiscated contraband drugs valued at several million dollars in the illicit market, said Harry M. Durning, United States customs collector for the New York port.

N. Y. A "Hot" Port

New York, in law enforcement parlance, is a "hot" port—about the hottest in the world.

International smugglers have renewed efforts to penetrate port surveillance with narcotics for American dope peddling rings. History, said veteran port officials, is repeating itself. A postwar resurgence of narcotic smuggling is comparable to one after World War I.

Collector Durning attributes the alarming increase to a breakdown of prewar safeguards abroad, worldwide unrest and unsettled economic conditions and the age old desire for quick, high profits.

In tightening their vigil against smuggling, customs officers pay particular attention to all ships coming from French and Mediterranean ports. That's where, they said, most shipments of illicit drugs originate.

Ships from Britain and Ireland, the officers said, seldom figure in drug smuggling. Always suspect, however, said Herman Lipski, chief of the United States customs enforcement division, are vessels coming from Naples, Genoa, Marseille, Le Havre and Antwerp.

Seize Big Catch

Lipski's men recently scored their biggest catch of the year when they discovered narcotics valued at one million dollars secreted about a ship from Le Havre.

One bundle of drugs was found in the ship's galley at the bottom of a full barrel of flour. Another batch, encased in a waterproof bag, reposed in a soup tureen full of water. Other packages were discovered inside the lining of the ship's oven and in a box of sea biscuits.

Another recent haul came when shore patrol officers under Durning raided the basement of a dingy water front tenement. They found 36 ounces of narcotics, and complete equipment for testing, diluting and preparing drugs for illicit sale to addicts.

In a drainpipe in the basement they found $18,000 in cash and a pistol. From a man caught fleeing the basement they confiscated four more ounces of drugs. Total value of the catch was placed at $200,000.

These Wise Mallards Make Duck's Soup of Migration

BRIGHTON, MICH.—Maybe some animals are dumb—but not the ducks of Brighton.

These Livingston county birds have solved the whole thing business of fall and spring migration.

While most of their kind are flying thousands of miles in the spring trek from the warm South to the awakening North, the Brighton contingent does the whole thing in about 400 short, waddy steps.

The 50-odd feathered thinkers based here took care of the whole matter of migration in about 30 minutes.

When the call of spring stirs the flock into action the Brighton mallards climb the sides of their little mill pond, waddle about 100 feet across Main Street and down the bank into the other half of the pond.

The mill pond is bisected by the city's main east-west street. On the north the pond freezes in winter. But on the south side, where the water is kept open by a small dam, a small flock of domestic white mallards congregates. The banks of the pond are liberally sprinkled with bread crumbs and other duck delicacies.

Company Recovers Valuable Diamond Dust From Its Shop

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Diamond dust equal in weight to more than two dozen gems, the size of the famous Hope diamond was recovered by the General Electric company in 1947.

General Electric said the dust was worth from $3 to $5 a carat. The 44-carat Hope diamond is valued at about two million dollars.

The dust was used to polish dies of tungsten-carbide and can be reused.

A company spokesman said that a simplified process it developed during World War II cut the time of dust recovery from several weeks to a few hours. The process also requires fewer chemicals.

Making Pottery Calls for Skill

Of the 87,000 workers in Britain's pottery industry, more than half are women. While most work in modern factories, with rows of identical dishes or pots marching along the assembly line, it is still a highly skilled art. Unfettered by mass production, the pottery artists still draw their inspiration from English trees and flowers. Their more expensive wares are still laboriously painted free-style, with rich ground colors. A plate or cup is oiled, color is dusted on, and the oil burns away on firing.

Boxing Contest Rules

Standard "ring" for boxing contests must be elevated five feet above the floor level of the arena. Generally, the maximum measurement of the ring is not standard for professional fights. Its size is determined by boxing commission rules. The ring can be from 16 feet square up to 24 square feet, which is roped off and constitutes the fighting zone. Another three and one-half feet on the four sides outside the roped arena, called an "apron", usually prevents a fall to the floor of the arena proper in case a fighter is pushed through the ropes.

Asteroid Appears, Vanishes

In 1937, an asteroid about a mile in diameter was sighted moving swiftly against the background of the stars. Before news of the discovery could be circulated, the body had swooped away and was lost. It has not been seen since that time. It was given a name, however, and that is Hermes, for the swift messenger of the gods whom the Romans called Mercury. From a few accidental observations of this body made within a day or two of its discovery, it was calculated that its nearest approach was about 500,000 miles, only twice the moon's distance.

U. S. Coast Guard Academy

United States Coast Guard academy, New London, Conn., was founded in 1876. The administration building is named Hamilton hall in honor of Alexander Hamilton, first secretary of the treasury, who founded the coast guard in 1790. The academy's four-year course embraces engineering, military science, cultural and other professional subjects.

Antioch V.F.W. Team Wins Sixth Straight

The Antioch baseball team, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, came from behind last Sunday and won their sixth straight game by beating Pleasant Prairie 7 to 4. In the first inning Pleasant Prairie got off to a two run lead on four hits, a homerun, double, and two singles off Ray Bushing, the Antioch pitcher.

In the next eight innings Bushing gave up but three more hits and two more runs while Antioch collected eleven hits and seven runs off the pitching of Welsstedt and Waldren.

Antioch failed to score in the first five innings but came through with five runs in the sixth, when Eddie Plenski got on first, due to an error followed by a single by B. Schneider, and then they purposely walked Jack Crandall loading the bases. Glenn Fox came up to bat with the bases loaded and with the squeeze play sign on, laid down a perfect bunt, scoring Plenski and Fox was safe at first. With the bases loaded Jimmie Fields came up and cracked out a triple, scoring Schneider, Crandall and Fox. He came home on a long fly by Ray Wells and Antioch had a five to two lead. Each team added another two runs in the remaining innings.

Next Sunday, Aug. 15, the Northside A. C. nine from Waukegan, will play here on the local High School diamond and the V. F. W. boys will be after their seventh straight victory. The following Sunday, Aug. 22, Rexes, colored team, will play a return engagement with our local team and that game will also be played at home here. With the greatly improved V. F. W. team both games promise to be very interesting.

The lineup and batting order for last Sunday's game is as follows:

Watch for Fake Eye Doctors, People Told

Warning against fake eye doctors who are again operating in the mid-west is given by Prairie Farmer's Protective Union in the August 14 Prairie Farmer.

The fake eye specialists' racket is not new, because it was worked in 1928, 1940 and again in 1946. Here's how it operates, as described in Prairie Farmer:

These crooks travel in pairs, and work on elderly people outside of town, usually where no telephone wires lead into the house. The approach is a simple offer to sell eyeglasses at a low price. However, as soon as the intended victim begins to listen, Crook No. 1 "discovers" a shocking symptom in the victim's left eye. It just happens that out in the car is the great Dr. Whoosits. He brings the doctor, who condescends to look at the eye. He finds it afflicted with a terrific condition, maybe a cataract, but an especially bad kind with a long name. If not treated at once it will cause total blindness, maybe insanity, he says. It can be cured by "radium" quickly and painlessly, but it's expensive, and must be kept a secret.

The "operation" consists of putting some drops of a gelatin-like solution in the eye, then after a few minutes triumphantly lifting out a piece of rubbery film supposed to be the cataract. Then they put on the bite for as much money as they think they can get. This was seldom less than $500, often nearer $1,000. Then they get away fast.

Of course the entire operation is a fake, worth nothing. Yet these confidence men have taken hundreds of thousands of dollars from their victims.

Publicity is the best cure. If any such approach is made in your neighborhood, get all the facts, get auto license number and description and report at once both to your sheriff and to Prairie Farmer's Protection Union.

Chicagoland Music Festival Will be Broadcast Over WGN Radio Station on August 14

The hour's program will open with the festival orchestra of more than 100 players, conducted by Henry Weber, music director of the festival, playing excerpts from "Scenario" by Jerome Kern, featuring "Show Boat" tunes.

Fishermen Return From Canada With Report of Much Rain; Good Fishing

Despite all-day rains seven of the eleven days, a group of Antioch fishermen who returned Saturday from Manitou lake, Ontario, Canada, enjoyed their fishing. There were only two days of clear weather in contrast to the lack of rain here. Those who made the trip were Walter Hills, Howard and Harold Gaston, Calvin Harden and Harry Nelson. H. E. Shepherd and Jack Peterson, of Kansas City were members of the group.

Their fishing ground was 110 miles from any highway. Harry Nelson cut a bad gash in his left hand while chopping wood. He was given first aid treatment by a resort keeper and when he got back to a village, a physician cauterized the wound and closed it with several stitches. The gash extended three inches over the left index finger to the back of the hand.

Wisconsin Orders Charges Against Former Antioch Woman School Operator

The Wisconsin state department of public welfare asked Dist. Atty. Urban Zieglers of Kenosha to bring court action against Miss Edna West for her failure to have a state license for her home for backward children at Camp Lake.

Miss West took her school to Camp Lake last year from a lake west of Antioch, occupying a former resort. She denied her school is subject to the rulings of the state welfare department, having been licensed by another department of the state.

She admitted that the school was not complete but said that inability to get materials at the time kept her from making improvements.

The state director of welfare said that the pleas of the parents of the children kept them from closing the institution on the provision that the parents set up a supervising management board, provide finances and make property improvements. Director A. W. Bayley said this hasn't been done.
